Tenant Fees Act 2019/Consumer Rights Act 2015/Housing and Planning Act 2016 Financial Penalty Enforcement under the Tenant Fees Act 2019, the Consumer Rights Act 2015 and the Housing and Planning Act 2016

1. Legal Reference

The Tenant Fees Act 2019 (TFA 2019) prohibits the charging of fees in respect of a tenancy other than those which are specifically permitted and amends other legislation as follows:

- In respect of the duty of letting agents to publicise fees etc under Section 83 of the Consumer Rights Act 2015 (CRA 2015). The CRA 2015 Section 83 imposes a duty on letting agents to publicise fees, publish which redress scheme they are a member of, and whether they are a member of a client money protection scheme.
- In relation to the duty placed on enforcement authorities to have regard to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State (“the SoS”) relating to the enforcement of an order under s83(1) of 84(1) as per Section 85 of the Enterprise & Regulatory Reform Act 2013.
- In respect of the duty to enforce being subject to Section 26 of the Tenant Fees Act 2019 (TFA 2019) under Article 7 of the Redress Schemes for Lettings Agency Work and Property Management Work (requirement to belong to a Scheme etc.) England) Order 2014.
- In relation to the meaning of ‘Lead Enforcement Authority’; under Section 135 of the (enforcement of client money protection scheme regulations) of the Housing and Planning Act 2016.
- In respect of the LEA as an alternative to the SoS where the SoS is not the LEA under Article 7 of the Redress Schemes for Lettings Agency Work and Property Management Work (requirement to belong to a Scheme etc.) England) Order 2014.

2. Tenant Fees Act 2019 Sanctions

2.1. The TFA 2019 provides that enforcement authorities may impose financial penalties of up to £30,000 depending on the breach as follows:

- In respect of Prohibited Payments under Sections 1 & 2 of the TFA 2019 a financial penalty not exceeding £5,000 for a first breach.
- Under Section 12 of the TFA 2019 a second or subsequent breach within 5 years of the previous breach provides for a financial penalty not exceeding £30,000 and there is power to prosecute in the Magistrates Court where an unlimited fine may be imposed.

The Trading Standards Service will determine what is the most appropriate and effective sanction, whether it is appropriate to impose a financial penalty or prosecute in any relevant case having due regard to the Trading Standards Enforcement Policy.

2.2. Other Types of Enforcement Action that may be taken In appropriate circumstances consideration will be given to informal action such as warning letters or advice, in an effort to secure compliance, and will be done so in accordance with the Trading Standards Enforcement Policy.

3. Consequential Amendments brought about by the Tenant Fees Act 2019

Additionally, the TFA 2019 amends the legislation referred to in paragraph 1 above and which separately provide that penalties may be imposed as follows:

i In respect of a failure of Letting Agents to publicise their fees as required by Section 83(3) of the Consumer Rights Act 2015 a financial penalty not exceeding £5,000.

ii. In respect of a failure by any person engaged in Letting Agency or Property Management work who fails to hold membership of a Redress Scheme as required by Article 3 Redress Schemes for Lettings Agency Work and Property Management Work (requirement to belong to a Scheme etc.) England) Order 2014 (in respect of Lettings Agency work) or Article 5 (in respect of property management work) to a financial penalty not exceeding £5,000. Note that it is not sufficient to simply register for redress – the correct category of membership must be obtained depending on the work carried out.

Letting agents are required to publish which redress scheme they are a member of, and the Trading Standards Service enforces this aspect under the Consumer Rights Act 2015 Section 83.

iii. In respect of a failure by a letting or property agent who holds client money to belong to an approved or designated Client Money Protection (“CMP”) Scheme as required by Regulation 3 of the Client Money Protection Schemes for Property Agents (Requirement to Belong to a Scheme etc.) Regulations 2019, a financial penalty not exceeding £30,000. Again, Section 83 of the Consumer Rights Act requires letting agents to publish information about which Client Money Protection Scheme they are a member of, and this is enforced by Trading Standards.

4. Statutory Guidance.

The Ministry of Housing, Communities & Local Government (“MHCLG”) has published the following document: Tenant Fees Act 2019: Statutory Guidance for enforcement authorities.

https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment\_data/file/819633/TFA\_Statutory\_Enforcement\_Guidance\_190722.pdf

This is statutory guidance to which enforcement authorities must have regard to in relation to enforcing the TFA 2019. This statutory guidance recommends certain factors that an enforcement authority should take into account when deciding on the level of financial penalties under the TFA 2019 and further recommends that enforcement authorities develop and document their own Policy on determining the appropriate level of financial penalty in a particular case.

5. Determining the level of the financial penalty

In accordance with the provisions of the TFA 2019 the level of financial penalties for matters enforced by the Weights and Measures authority will be determined by the Trading Standards Service. Although the statutory guidance recommends factors which may be taken into account it does not go into any significant level of detail in this regard.

Each of those factors will be considered as a part of the Trading Standards Service's decision-making process and they are:

- a. The history of compliance/non-compliance
- b. The severity of the breach
- c. Deliberate concealment of the activity and/or evidence
- d. Knowingly or recklessly supplying false or misleading evidence
- e. The intent of the landlord/agent, individual and/or corporate body
- f. The attitude of the landlord/agent
- g. The deterrent effect of a prosecution on the landlord/agent and others
- h. The extent of financial gain as a result of the breach

Although the Trading Standards Service has therefore a wide discretion in determining the appropriate level of financial penalty in any particular case, regard has been given to the statutory guidance when making this policy.

APPENDIX 1 The processes that the Trading Standards Service will use

In order to determine the level of financial penalty under the TFA 2019, Consumer Rights Act 2015 and the Housing and Planning Act 2016. All stages are subject to statutory time limits.

STEP ONE – Determining the offence category

The Trading Standards Service will determine the breach category using only the culpability and category of harm factors below. Where an offence does not fall squarely into a category, individual factors may require a degree of weighting to make an overall assessment.

The Trading Standards Service may also apply a discretionary factor in order to reflect consistency across England and may consider decisions in other UK jurisdictions where they contain some relevant and persuasive content.

Culpability

Very high: Where the Landlord or Agent intentionally breached, or flagrantly disregarded, the law or has/had a high public profile which may include any significant role in a trade or business representative organisation and knew their actions were unlawful
High: Actual foresight of, or wilful blindness to, risk of a breach but risk nevertheless taken

Medium: Breach committed through act or omission which a person exercising reasonable care would not commit

Low: Breach committed with little fault, for example, because:

- Significant efforts were made to address the risk although they were inadequate on the relevant occasion
- There was no warning/circumstance indicating a risk
- Failings were minor and occurred as an isolated incident

Harm

The following factors relate to both actual harm and risk of harm. Dealing with a risk of harm involves consideration of both the likelihood of harm occurring and the extent of it if it does.

Category 1 – High Likelihood of Harm –

- Serious adverse effect(s) on individual(s) and/or having a widespread impact due to the nature and/or scale of the Landlord's or Agent's business
- High risk of an adverse effect on individual(s) – including where persons are vulnerable. A wide definition of vulnerability will be used. See Appendix 2 for a non-exhaustive list.

Category 2 – Medium Likelihood of Harm

- Adverse effect on individual(s) (not amounting to Category 1)

- Medium risk of an adverse effect on individual(s) or low risk of serious adverse effect.
- Tenants and/or legitimate landlords or agents substantially undermined by the conduct.
- The Trading Standards Service's work as a regulator is inhibited
- Tenant or prospective tenant misled

Category 3- Low Likelihood of Harm

- Low risk of an adverse effect on actual or prospective tenants.
- Public misled but little or no risk of actual adverse effect on individual(s)
- We will define harm widely and victims may suffer financial loss, damage to health or psychological distress (especially vulnerable cases). There are gradations of harm within all of these categories. The nature of harm will depend on personal characteristics and circumstances of the victim and the assessment of harm will be an effective and important way of taking into consideration the impact of a particular crime on the victim. In some cases, no actual harm may have resulted, and enforcement authority will be concerned with assessing the relative dangerousness of the offender's conduct; it will consider the likelihood of harm occurring and the gravity of the harm that could have resulted.

To the community

Some offences cause harm to the community at large (instead of or as well as to an individual victim) and may include economic loss, harm to public health, or interference with the administration of justice.

STEP TWO - Starting point and category range

Having determined the category that the breach falls into, the Trading Standards Service will refer to the following starting points to reach an appropriate level of civil penalty within the category range. The Trading Standards Service will then consider further adjustment within the category range for aggravating and mitigating features.

Obtaining financial information

The statutory guidance advises that local authorities should use their powers under Schedule 5 to the CRA 2015 to, as far as possible, make an assessment of a Landlord's or Agent's assets and any income (not just rental or fee income) they receive when determining an appropriate penalty.

The Trading Standards Service will use such lawful means as are at its disposal to identify where assets might be found. In setting a financial penalty, the Trading Standards Service may conclude that the Landlord or Agent is able to pay any financial penalty imposed unless the Trading Standards Service has obtained, or the Landlord or Agent has supplied, any financial information to the contrary.

The subject of a Final Notice, or a Notice of Intent where the subject does not challenge it, will be expected to disclose to the Trading Standards Service such data relevant to his/her financial position to facilitate an assessment of what that person can reasonably afford to pay.

Where the Trading Standards Service is not satisfied that it has been given sufficient reliable information, the Trading Standards Service will be entitled to draw reasonable inferences as to the person's means from evidence it has received, or obtained through its own enquiries, and from all the circumstances of the case which may include the inference that the person can pay any financial penalty. Starting points and ranges

The tables in Appendices below give the starting points, minimum and maximum financial penalties for each harm category and level of culpability for each type of breach:

- Appendix 4 First breach in respect of a Prohibited Payment or failure to comply with CRA requirement
- Appendix 5 Second & subsequent breach in respect of a Prohibited Payment
- Appendix 6 Breach in respect of publication of fees
- Appendix 7 Breach in respect of Membership of a redress scheme
- Appendix 8 Breach in respect of failure to obtain membership of a Client Money Protection Scheme
- Appendix 9 Breach in respect of issues relating to certificates of evidence of Membership of a Client Money Protection Scheme
- Appendix 10 Breach in respect of transparency issues relating to Membership of a Client Money Protection Scheme

Context

Below is a list of some, but not all factual elements that provide the context of the breach and factors relating to the Landlord or Agent. The Trading Standards Service will identify whether any combination of these, or other relevant factors, should result in an upward or downward adjustment from the starting point. In particular, relevant recent conviction (Appendix 3) are likely to result in a substantial upward adjustment.

In some cases, having considered these factors, it may be appropriate to move outside the identified category range which will not exceed the statutory maximum permitted in any case.

Factors increasing seriousness

Aggravating factors:

- Previous breaches of the legislation
- Previous convictions, having regard to:
  - the nature of the offence to which the conviction relates and its relevance to the current breach; and,
  - the time that has elapsed since the conviction:

Other aggravating factors may include:

- Motivated by financial gain

- Deliberate concealment of illegal nature of activity
- Established evidence of wider/community impact
- Obstruction of the investigation
- Record of poor compliance
- Refusal of advice or training or to become a member of an Accreditation scheme

Factors reducing seriousness or reflecting personal mitigation

- No previous or no relevant/recent breaches
- No previous convictions or no relevant/recent convictions
- Steps voluntarily taken to remedy problem
- High level of co-operation with the investigation, beyond that which will always be expected
- Good record of relationship with tenants
- Self-reporting, co-operation and acceptance of responsibility
- Good character and/or exemplary conduct
- Mental disorder or learning disability, where linked to the commission of the breach
- Serious medical conditions requiring urgent, intensive or long-term treatment and supported by medical evidence

STEP THREE - General principles to consider in setting a penalty

The Trading Standards Service will finalise the appropriate level of penalty so that it reflects the seriousness of the offence and the Trading Standards Service must take into account the financial circumstances of the Landlord or Agent if representations are made by the Landlord or Agent following the issue of a Notice of Intent. The level of financial penalty will reflect the extent to which the conduct fell below the required standard.

The financial penalty should meet, in a fair and proportionate way, the objectives of punishment, deterrence and the removal of gain derived through the commission of the breach; it should not be cheaper to breach than to take the appropriate precautions and a fundamental principle involved is that there should be no financial gain to the perpetrator from the commission of the breaches.

If issuing a financial penalty for more than one breach, or where the offender has already been issued with a financial penalty, The Trading Standards Service will consider whether the total penalties are just and proportionate to the offending behaviour and will have regard to the factors in STEP EIGHT below.

STEP FOUR- Issue Notice of Intent

The Trading Standards Service will issue a Notice of Intent within 6 months of the enforcement authority having sufficient evidence that the Landlord or Agent has breached the TFA 2019. If the breach is ongoing the 6-month deadline continues until the breach ceases. A Notice of Intent can be served spontaneously. While there are slight variations in the Statutory requirements according to which breach is being addressed a Notice of Intent will typically contain the date of the exercise by the Landlord or Agent of the Appeal process.

STEP FIVE – Consideration of representations and review of financial penalty where appropriate

The Trading Standards Service should review the penalty and, if necessary adjust the initial amount reached at STEP FOUR, and represented in the Notice of Intent, to ensure that it fulfils the general principles set out below. Any quantifiable economic benefit(s) derived from the breach, including through avoided costs or operating savings, should normally be added to the total financial penalty arrived at in STEP TWO.

Where this is not readily available, the Trading Standards Service may draw on information available from enforcing authorities and others about the general costs of operating within the law. Whether the penalty will have the effect of putting the offender out of business will be relevant but in some serious cases this might be an acceptable outcome.

STEP SIX – Reductions

The Trading Standards Service will consider any factors which indicate that a reduction in the penalty is appropriate and in so doing will have regard to the following factors relating to the wider impacts of the financial penalty on innocent third parties; such as (but not limited to):

- The impact of the financial penalty on the Landlord or Agent's ability to comply with the law or make restitution where appropriate
- The impact of the financial penalty on employment of staff, service users, customers, and the local economy. The following factors will be considered in setting the level of reduction.

When deciding on any reduction in a financial penalty, consideration will be given to:

- The stage in the investigation or thereafter when the offender accepted liability
  - The circumstances in which they admitted liability
  - The degree of co-operation with the investigation
- The maximum level of reduction in a penalty for an admission of liability will be one-third. In some circumstances there will be a reduced or no level of discount. This may occur for example where the evidence of the breach is overwhelming or there is a pattern of breaching conduct. Any reduction should not result in a penalty which is less than the amount of gain from the commission of the breach itself.

STEP SEVEN - Additional actions

In all cases the Trading Standards Service must consider whether to take additional action. These may include further enforcement action itself or reference to other organisations where appropriate.

STEP EIGHT – Totality of breaching conduct

Where the offender is issued with more than one financial penalty, the Trading Standards Service should consider the following guidance from the definitive guideline on Offences Taken into Consideration and Totality which appears to the Trading Standards Service to be an appropriate reference and guide.

As the total financial penalty is inevitably cumulative the Trading Standards Service should determine the financial penalty for each individual breach based on the seriousness of the breach and taking into account the circumstances of the case including the financial circumstances of the Landlord or Agent so far as they are known, or appear, to the Trading Standards Service.

The Trading Standards Service should add up the financial penalties for each offence and consider if they are just and proportionate. If the aggregate total is not just and proportionate the Trading Standards Service should consider how to reach a just and proportionate total financial penalty.

There are a number of ways in which this can be achieved. For example: Where a Landlord or Agent is to be penalised for two or more breaches or where there are multiple breaches of a repetitive kind, especially when committed against the same person, it will often be appropriate to impose for the most serious breach a financial penalty which reflects the totality of the conduct where this can be achieved within the maximum penalty for that breach. No separate penalty should be imposed for the other breaches.

Where a Landlord or Agent is to be penalised for two or more breaches that arose out of different incidents, it will often be appropriate to impose separate financial penalties for each breach. The Trading Standards Service should add up the financial penalties for each breach and consider if they are just and proportionate. If the aggregate amount is not just and proportionate the Trading Standards Service should consider whether all of the financial penalties can be proportionately reduced. Separate financial penalties should then be imposed. Where separate financial penalties are passed, the Trading Standards Service must take care to ensure that there is no double-counting.

STEP NINE – Recording the decision The officer making a decision about a financial penalty will record their decision giving reasons for coming to the amount of financial penalty that will be imposed.
