

Newcastle's Severe Weather Emergency Protocol 2021/22

1. Background

This Severe Weather Emergency Protocol (SWEP) describes Newcastle's arrangements for responding to people who are sleeping rough, and the additional arrangements that will be put in place to protect people when there are 'severe weather conditions'.

SWEP includes arrangements for a single offer of a safe place to stay for people sleeping rough, including those without recourse to public funds. For those who have no local connection to Newcastle, we will assist people to return to their area of connection, as a priority in normal working hours. If the person contacts out of hours an offer of a safe place to stay will be for one night only, with assistance to return to their area of connection the following working day. The single offer of a safe place to stay may be a "sit-up" in one of the city's homeless accommodation services.

The SWEP is an extension of Newcastle's ongoing policy to offer somewhere safe to stay and reconnection to everyone who is sleeping rough with no accommodation available to them. We cannot force people to take up this offer and we cannot ask our accommodation providers to continue to provide accommodation for people who place their staff or other residents at risk due to violent or threatening behaviour.

- What is the trigger for severe weather provision?

When the weather is predicted by the MET office to be a minimum temperature of 0°C or below using the "feels like" indicator, SWEP will be activated in Newcastle.

- Who qualifies for help under the SWEP?

Someone who has been verified as sleeping rough by either Changing Lives' Street Outreach Team, Northumbria Police or Newcastle City Council.

- What can you do if you are concerned about someone sleeping rough or at risk of homelessness?

2. Below is information about how we routinely respond to rough sleeping

Our year-round routine response is to try to make sure no one sleeps rough by:

- preventing people from ending up on the streets by supporting people at risk of homelessness and trying to manage the transition from institutions for example prison and hospital
- having a Preventing Evictions Protocol in place with all commissioned homeless accommodation providers to prevent evictions on to the street
- where we fail to prevent rough sleeping, we offer specialist short-term relief accommodation and assistance with reconnection to the persons area of connection, so that no one needs to sleep rough
- 365 days a year outreach service offering access into accommodation and support or reconnection to the person's area of connection
- where an offer of accommodation and support is refused, the outreach team will maintain contact and continue to offer accommodation and support
- giving everyone found sleeping rough a coordinated personalised plan to ensure that there is an agreed set of actions to support the person off the street and into accommodation
- working with voluntary sector, faith and community groups to respond to people they work with who are sleeping rough
- working in partnership with the Police, health and social care services to coordinate responses to the unmet complex health and care needs that are often the obstacles to a person being accommodated
