1. ORDNANCE SURVEY

The First complete national survey of Great Britain by Ordnance Survey was made in the 19th century. O.S. Maps are produced in a variety of scales ranging from 1:1250 to 1:1000000.

This library currently purchases O.S. Maps in the following scales: -

1:50000 (1 inch to 1 mile), 1:25000 (2.5 inches to 1 mile), 1:10000 (6 inches to 1 mile) for Northumberland, Durham and Tyneside.
1:1250 (50 inches to 1 mile) are purchased for Newcastle only.

List of O.S. map series in the Local Studies Collection.

Not all are complete, in some series we have selected sheets only.

2. TOWN & COUNTY MAPS

These are commercially published maps both modern and historical. They cover the areas of Durham Northumberland and Tyneside including the towns within these areas. All town and county maps are listed in the Local Studies card catalogue. Classified from L912 to L912.7 inclusive. They are usually small scale (1") and some have been bound in a way which makes them difficult to photocopy.

The earliest maps in the collection are: -

Mercator's Northumberland, 1595

Saxon's Durham, 1576

Bird's Eye View of Newcastle (from the Cotton manuscript), 1590

3. MANUSCRIPT MAPS

Largely in the Seymour Bell Collection which consists of 25 portfolios of plans, inventories of properties, valuations, correspondence, surveys and auctioneers' notices relating to estates in Newcastle and Northumberland from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth century. The original collections, of which this is a part, were compiled by the Bell family of Newcastle and Gateshead, principally John Bell, Thomas Bell, Christopher Seymour Bell and Seymour Thomas Bell, during the course of their work as booksellers and land surveyors. Material collected by the family is scattered amongst the major libraries and record offices of the North -East.

The portfolios held by Newcastle City Library are numbered 1-25 and each contains numbered folders which hold individually numbered items relating to an area or subject. Altogether there are about 600 items in the collection. Material is for reference only and is available on completion of a blue request form. Photocopying is not permitted.

The portfolios are numbered as follows: -

4. GOAD PLANS

These are detailed plans of the main shopping areas of local towns, indicating all businesses in the area at the time of publication. Each area is revised every one or two years. Plans are held from 1972 to 1992. From 1992 only plans for Newcastle and Gateshead Metro Centre have been purchased.

Goad Insurance Plans were fore-runners of the shopping plans. There are 2 volumes 1896 and 1927-62 which cover Newcastle City Centre at a scale of 40ft to 1 inch. They each have an index by street name. Volume 1 also has an index by name of selected buildings.

Photocopying: No more than 1 photocopy (up to A4 size only), can be made from each single Goad Plan, for the following purposes only:

- Fair Dealing – research, private and educational study or review.
- Judicial Proceedings – court requested submission.

5. ADMINISTRATIVE MAPS

These maps show the administrative boundaries for urban, rural and/or borough districts, civil parishes and parliamentary constituencies. They are listed in the Local Studies card catalogue.

6. GEOLOGICAL SURVEYS

Geological maps have been produced since the mid 19th century. They show the structural features, type and age of rocks in the area.

They are available as Drift (including glacial/superficial or Quarternary deposits) and/or Solid. (showing only pre-Quarternary rocks)

This collection holds: -
